FACILITY MANAGEMENT · WHERE AI HELPS

From today's problems to AI-native work

THE PROBLEMS TODAY

Shifts left uncovered

An officer or cleaner calls in sick and supervisors scramble to find someone licensed and trained for that site.

02

Clients hear about problems first

Missed patrols, late cleans or open help desk tickets reach the client before your own team has noticed.

03

Monthly reports built by hand

Managers copy figures from logs, tickets and spreadsheets for every client review, and still miss things.

WHERE AI CAN HELP

01	Shift cover suggestions	Suggest the best available, qualified person for an open shift, ready for a supervisor to confirm.
02	Missed-task alerts	Flag late patrols, skipped cleans and overdue maintenance while there is still time to act.
03	Help desk triage	Sort incoming requests by urgency and site, and route each one to the right team.
04	Client reports drafted	Turn logs, tickets and incident notes into a clear monthly report for a manager to review.
05	Cleaning and energy by need	Use occupancy and meter data to adjust cleaning rounds and spot buildings using more energy than usual.

FOR INSPIRATION

AI-native ideas to get you thinking

Examples only, to show what AI-native work can look like. They are not part of the package scope or a promise of what we will build; your POC is agreed with you.

The 5am sick call

TODAY

A supervisor rings round a list of officers to find someone licensed for that site.

AI-NATIVE

The supervisor could see a ranked list of qualified, nearby staff who are free, and send the offer with one tap.

Catching the missed patrol

TODAY

A skipped patrol shows up only when the client asks about it days later.

AI-NATIVE

The control room could get an alert as soon as a patrol runs late, with the officer's last check-in shown.

The monthly client review

TODAY

An account manager spends days pulling figures from logs and spreadsheets.

AI-NATIVE

A draft review could be ready from the month's records, with highlights and open issues for the manager to check.
