LEGAL · WHERE AI HELPS

From today's problems to AI-native work

THE PROBLEMS TODAY

01

Time rebuilt from memory

Lawyers reconstruct their hours late at night, so billable work is missed and invoices go out late.

02

Precedents nobody can find

Good past work sits in folders and inboxes, so people start from a blank page or reuse the wrong version.

03

Bills rejected and budgets overrun

Invoices bounce back under client billing rules, and matter budgets run over before anyone checks.

WHERE AI CAN HELP

01	Find the right precedent	Search your own documents in plain words and get the best past clauses, with who may see them respected.
02	First drafts and summaries	Draft routine letters and summarise long documents for a lawyer to review and finish.
03	Time capture help	Suggest time entries from emails, calls and documents worked on, for each lawyer to confirm.
04	Bill checks before sending	Check draft invoices against each client's billing rules so problems are fixed before the bill goes out.
05	Matter and conflict watch	Flag possible conflicts and matters heading over budget, for a partner or the risk team to check and decide.

FOR INSPIRATION

AI-native ideas to get you thinking

Examples only, to show what AI-native work can look like. They are not part of the package scope or a promise of what we will build; your POC is agreed with you.

The end-of-day timesheet

TODAY

A lawyer spends the evening rebuilding the day's time from memory and emails.

AI-NATIVE

A lawyer could see a draft timesheet built from the day's emails, calls and documents, and confirm it in a few minutes.

Starting a contract from the best example

TODAY

An associate asks around or searches folders for a similar deal to copy from.

AI-NATIVE

An associate could ask in plain words and get the firm's closest past clauses, ranked, with who drafted them.

The pre-bill review

TODAY

Billing staff read every line by hand and still miss items the client will reject.

AI-NATIVE

Billing staff could get each draft bill with likely rejections flagged against the client's rules, ready to fix.
