RETAIL & E-COMMERCE · WHERE AI HELPS

From today's problems to AI-native work

THE PROBLEMS TODAY

01

Overselling or sitting on stock

Stock counts differ between the website, marketplaces and stores, so you oversell hot items and over-order slow ones.

02

A flooded support inbox

Late parcels and "where is my order?" emails pile up, and the team spends the day giving the same answers.

03

Returns that eat the margin

Returned items sit in cartons waiting to be checked, and nobody knows which products or sizes cause the most returns.

WHERE AI CAN HELP

01	Demand and stock forecasting	Predict what will sell by product, size and channel, so you buy and move stock with more confidence.
02	Shopper support assistant	Answer order, delivery and return questions at any hour from your own data, passing tricky ones to a person.
03	Better product pages	Draft clear product descriptions, size advice and search tags from your catalogue, for the team to approve.
04	Returns insight	Spot products, sizes and reasons behind returns, and suggest fixes to listings or sizing.
05	Win back lapsing customers	Find customers and subscribers who are drifting away and suggest the right message to bring them back.

FOR INSPIRATION

AI-native ideas to get you thinking

Examples only, to show what AI-native work can look like. They are not part of the package scope or a promise of what we will build; your POC is agreed with you.

Getting ready for a big sale or launch

TODAY

The team guesses quantities from last year's spreadsheet and hopes stock counts are right.

AI-NATIVE

The team could see a forecast by size and channel, with a warning wherever stock is likely to run short or oversell.

"Where is my order?" answered at once

TODAY

Support staff look up each order and copy the courier update into a reply.

AI-NATIVE

A shopper could get a clear answer from a chat assistant at once, with staff stepping in only for real problems.

The weekly returns review

TODAY

Returns pile up and the reasons are read only when someone has a spare afternoon.

AI-NATIVE

A buyer could get a short weekly note of the items returned most, the main reasons and a suggested fix for each.
